Charles Bassetti is the Malcom S.M. Watts III Adjunct Professor at Golden Gate University, San Francisco, and the editor/coauthor of the 9th edition of Edwards & Magee's Technical Analysis of Stock Trends.

In his presentation he will show how the Edwards & Magee methods enabled edwards-magee.com to short the market in January 2008, remaining short until March 2009. He will also show how to replace Dow Theory with Magee's Basing Points Procedure.

The Edwards & Magee toolbox is infinitely richer than most technicians are aware. Join us for the foremost authority on the subject.
